Metamorphosis 1997

The Butterfly Jar

We had a jar with a butterfly.
We opened the lid and it flew to the sky.
And there are things inside
my head
Waiting to be thought or said,
Dreams and jokes and wonderings are
Locked inside, like a butterfly
jar.
By then, when you are here
with me,
I can open the lid and set them free

Faculty & Staff

During the past four years, the students of the Ipswich High School Class of 1997 have been taught by a demanding and extremely talented group of teachers. We have been instructed by an excellent faculty in the theories of Einstein, the discoveries of Columbus and the terse prose of Hemingway. There were some tense moments, when frustration obscured learning, or private matters governed our concentration. However, the teachers were there to guide us with steady hands, never wavering in their support of us, never willing to give up on a pupil. Every teacher has a different method of motivation. Bribery, cajolery, threats, promises, discussions and the ability to listen are the implements that these teachers use. Their job is not easy, and is often a thankless enterprise, but as Aristotle was a pupil of Plato, the great leaders of tomorrow must have great teachers today to mold them. Over the past four years, many people have changed, undergoing physical and emotional metamorphoses to blossom into the young adults that they are today. In many cases, the teachers were the catalysts for this change. Their dedication and willingness to prepare the students have changed us from shy freshmen, to confident seniors. Not all of us will journey on towards the ivy covered walls of academia, but because of the teachers, we will leave IHS with the master key which unlocks any door: knowledge.

Freshmen

When we were in the middle school, we were told that our class was a blooming rose; at times we were forced to wonder if we would ever pass over the thorns; at times we thought we couldn't be any more in bloom. Now we've gone past the thought that our life can be compared to a rose, and "the sun" doesn't always "shine at our school." As we start to really mature, we face a lot of trials, we run across a lot of highs and a lot of lows. We have been told by the people that we should have been looking up to that "we were the worst class they have ever seen." Why is it that they say this to every class? We are young - we will be restless. We are athletes - we will crush all the competition. We are intellects - our minds WILL run over the world someday. We are artists - we WILL leave our mark. We will NOT follow the "norm," we'll party and work to make it all memorable, we WON'T be shot down. Clear the halls because we are coming full force. We are the Ipswich Tigers, Class of 2000!

Sophomores

Over the past year the sophomore class has grown together as one. As freshmen we were the new kids. Now we are a part of Ipswich High School. Usually sophomores are over looked because they are nothing special, but our class has a lot to be proud of. Many people in our class have excelled in academics, sports, drama and music, since last year. We feel we have accomplished a great deal, and as one we can accomplish so much more.

"The freshly hatched caterpillar, small though it is, seems too big to have been crammed into that tiny egg... Once out of the egg, the caterpillar settles into its primary role in life... With the onset of each instar [intervals between growth] the appearance of the caterpillar changes. Sometimes these changes are radical, sometimes not, depending on the kind of protection the particar species will need to stay alive throughout larval life."

Juniors

Our class has finally reached its junior year and our high school days are coming to a close. But as we begin thinking about our future, we can also remember our past couple of years at the high school. It seems like just yesterday we were freshmen. Our class has grown since then and we'll keep on growing, coming closer together as we begin the transition from our junior to senior year. As we begin to think of colleges and the future, we can also think of what we've done together as a class and how we've started to pull together as a whole. We are a class full of hopes, dreams and promises for the future and as a class we'll finish our last two years of high school with pride.

"Pupae are the resting forms in which the larvae transform into adults. External factors such as environment may trigger the changes, but the actual transformation is caused by hormones. Most larvae burrow into the ground and pupate there in earthen cells. Others pupate amid dead leaves or debris on the ground. As their wings expand, the veins harden, providing a rigid support."

Magic Carpet

You have a magic carpet
That will whiz you through the air,
To Spain or Maine or Africa
If you just tell it where.
So will you let it take you
Where you've never been before
Or will you buy some drapes to match
And use it
On your Floor?

- Shel Silverstein

There is a strength, a source of love in every one of you. You must all reach for the stars, your hopes and dreams in life. Your stars and dreams may be different, yet alike in each one of your hearts. All of you have that special something that sets you apart from each other, yet brings you together as a whole for a purpose or a cause, but most of all for each other. May the future bring to you dreams of tomorrow, and may your lives be filled with love for the world around you. The lessons life will teach you will not come from a book but from your heart. Life is precious, yet confusing; sometimes you may have to back up before moving forward. Always remember: a smile makes it easier.

I will cherish forever your acceptance of me as your friend and confident, and your respect for my role as your class advisor. I will miss each and every one of you: listening to your stories and dreams, to your adventures yet to be taken, wiping a tear from a cheek, a hug, or a simple pat on the shoulder as I walk down the hall gazing at your smiling faces. Remember, never underestimate the wonderful things you're capable of, the impact of your dreams and ideas, your uniqueness, and all that you have to offer. Never underestimate how special you are, and what you can become.

I Love You All, "Lots of Smiles"

Seniors, Things to Remember...

real men talk

The Metamorphosis

You know how it goes: caterpillar, cocoon, butterfly. And here's how the average school dancer transforms:

seventh grade

What to wear: Exactly what your two best friends are wearing.

What to do: Stay in a tight circle with your girlfriends. Practice cheers and dance moves By the end of the night, ignore the deejay and run around in your socks like everyone else.

eighth grade

What to wear: a brand-new outfit

What to do: Go with a boy Hold hands with him for two hours straight Barely talk. Sweat a lot. Slobber/ make out for the last 15 minutes Mumble goodbye when the lights come on.

freshman

What to wear: vintage jeans and a tight top (go for the "I didn't try too hard" look)

What to do: Dance with sophomore and junior guys (bonus points for facial hair) Make the sophomore and junior girls really jealous

sophomore and junior

What to wear: slouchy cords and your dad's freebie gas-station T-shirt from 1982 (anything that looks like the first thing you grabbed off the floor, even though it took you an hour to decide).

What to do: Show up late. Rag on freshmen Obsess about what everyone's doing afterward.

senior

What to wear: anything that makes you look five years older (you're so over that baby-barrette thing).

What to do: Show up an hour before it ends. Act nostalgic. Treat the underclassmen as if they're toddlers. During the last slow song, do a group hug/sway with 10 of your friends Then leave to really begin your night. Thanks Seventeen

Class Sayings:

Class Favorites:

Actress: Sandra Bullock
Actor: Matthew McConaughey
Food: Beer nuts and pretzels
Band: Dave Matthew's Band
TV: X-Files, ER and Friends
Hang out: The Nest & The Point
Teacher: Mr. Laakso

*In November the town of Ipswich voted to build a new school for grades six through twelve. This project begins in the summer of 1997.

*President Clinton was elected president for the second term in a row. Hillary, Chelsea, and Bill will continue to reside in Washington DC.

* The Class of 1997 had more success in fundraising than any other class to graduate from Ipswich High School.

* Justin Lemire was the first IHS soccer player ever named Cape Ann League player of the year and picked as an All League Player.

g out in Ipswich can be costly

The Metamorphosis

Okay, that was for the girls. But we didn't forget about the guys..don't worry. Here we go. Our interpretation of you guys(who didn't get involved in yearbook).

seventh grade

What to wear: sweatpants and a new hat (straight edge) with old sneakers

What to do: Sit on the bleachers and talk, trying to figure out the girls, but can't.

eighth grade

What to wear: A pair of jeans and a nice shirt with loafers. Can we say GAP?

What to do: Try to not act nervous about asking your crush to dance, but in reality your palms are soaking wet.

What to wear: The same thing you wore to school.

What to do: Go with all your friends. Leave early out of frustration because all your "girl-friends" wouldn't be caught dead knowing you

sophomore and junior

What to wear: Something sloppy. frayed jeans, birks, and a long sleeve t-shirt

What to do: Dance with underclassman girls

senior

What to wear: Whatever. .

What to do: Go late, after you have been to some sort of a party, dance as much as you possibly can with as many girls as possible, and leave a little early to make it to the next party.

*In 1996 many Americans enjoyed the exciting summer Olympics which were held in Atlanta, Georgia. We will never forget the bombing of the Centennial Park.

* This year the IHS boys basketball team beat North Andover for the first time in 9 years and only the second time ever.

*In January 1997, OJ Simpson was found liable in the deaths of his ex-wife Nicole and Ronald Goldman.

Junior Prom

On May 31, 1996, the Class of '97 pulled together for its first formal event. To say the Junior Prom was a great success is an understatement. With the wonderful weather, and the beautiful facility, a memorable time was had by all. Everyone was in good spirits- not even the worse-than-bad DJ could ruin the night. Of course, parents, advisors, and chaperones added to the event's success. Thanks to everyone-- it truly fulfilled our greatest hopes and "Dreams".

Holiday Party

Well, at least the Holiday Party supplied us all with an excuse to miss class for a while. Needless to say, classifying this experience as a "party" would require a stretch of the imagination. But we found a stick, played some limbo and tried to celebrate the Holiday Season together, for the last time....

WELCOME

Winter Cotillion

On December 7th, many of us gathered at Woodman's Function Hall for a pleasant evening of dinner and dancing. Together we celebrated the holidays; we ate, we danced and we partied (not everyone in that order). Some of us hit the floor, whether that be the dance floor, Adam's porch floor, or Chris's bathroom floor. Together we will remember the last holiday we spent together ...

Spirit Week

Lead by seniors, Spirit Week was an incredible success this year. All classes seemed to participate and bond making this a truly worthwhile experience. The senior class set a good example by coming together for the last Spirit Week, and winning. The sophomores, surprisingly, came in second to the great ones. Hopefully, the Classes of '98 and 2000 will learn what spirit is between now and next year-- they may just break tradition!

Clubs & Activities

The IHS offers a plethora of activities for students to get involved in. From academic to social to political groups, everyone has the opportunity to get involved and make a difference, regardless of where they come from or who they are. These activities build friendships and offer services to our school and community.

Amnesty International

Amnesty International works in support of human rights around the world. The basis of our campaigns is letter writing, by which means we appeal, on the prisoner's behalf, to governments which have imprisoned people because of their political or religious affiliation. Our chapter has grown surprisingly this year, and our new members contributed to the success of our Election Day bake sale. It sometimes seems ironic that baking cookies can promote human rights, but the world (and Amnesty!) works in mysterious ways!

This Year's Art Club had a real good turnout of students. The artistic and not-so-artistic can come and create marvelous sketches, breath taking paintings, and captivating sculptures. With the help of Alison Foote, the IHS Art Director, students are able to finish assignments and develop new skills in different medias. Many students have found new abilities to manipulate different media while making friends at the same time.

Band

Whether you're freezing cold playing pep band music at the Thanksgiving Day football game, or nervously filing into the gym for the spring concert, band is always challenging and fun. Once a small corps of musicians, under Mr. Dolan's direction the band now includes eighty talented students, with its ranks increasing every year. For seniors Jon Cennami, Mary Fagan, Elisabeth Harding, Marcy Irvine, Dan Kmiec, Lauren Young, and myself, the four years spent in Band have brought many rewarding musical experiences and will continue to do so for all others who follow in our footsteps. Good luck with the auditorium!

This select women's choral group has certainly grown in the past few years and we now number sixteen. Bel Canto meets only once a week, but every member is dedicated to singing, and the lack of rehearsal time never shows. We cover a wide variety of music, from madrigals to musicals, and continue to broaden our range. Our blended voices sound great at every performance, and all our hard work really pays off. There are only three seniors this year but the underclassmen are strong and carry their own. We've enjoyed having the opportunity to come together and make some beautiful music. Thanks to Mrs. Sheppard for making it all possible, and thanks to everyone in Bel Canto for making it a wonderful experience.

- Elisabeth Harding

o B, L to R: Ralph Salerno, Ben Wilcox, Jillian Mackay-Smith, Matt van, Mary Fagan, Kate Drake, Aimee Gauthier MIA: Calvin Joss

Octet is a co-ed a capelloa sing ensemble which meets weekly. Between our concerts we produce lovely music for places and events such as Rotary Club and Nursing Homes. Starting second semester we became the Chamber Choir and added four singers to our roster. This is a very memorable time, and by participating we were able to create a few more memories.

Chameleon

The Ipswich High School's literary magazine, created for and by the students.... The Chameleon staff is composed of Mrs. Benedetto's exceptional grade 12 creative writing class. We, the staff, sorted through the various works of our peers, and chose to display only the best. Our annual magazine is distributed to the student body for two reasons: to display the literary talents of the students, and for the reading enjoyment of students, teachers, and parents of our classmates.

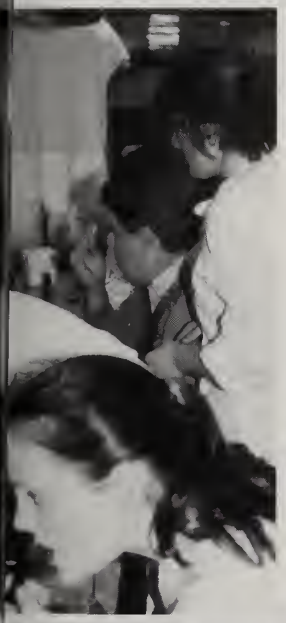
Company

The Company is the drama program at the IHS under the direction of Debra Dion Faust. The Company started the year with "Bye Bye Birdie" and ended the year with "Stephen Vincent Benet's Stories of America." For the competition play, we performed "Class Action." Many vigorous hours were spent on both technical and performance aspects of theatre, and sometimes things got a little "kooky." I'll miss the profitable trips to Denny's and I pity those who will never get the chance to perform in the Cafetorium. Good luck to all the underclassmen; we'll miss you.

- Melissa Kelly



Enviromental Club

The environmental club is a relatively new group that was started only a year ago. We meet after school every week to participate in a wide variety of activities, such as exploring vernal pools and identifying various habitats. The majority of our time is taken up in preparation for the MA Envirothon, a statewide environmental competition. All of our group members share a common interest in learning, caring, helping and protecting our fragile environment.

Jazz Band this year was very different than last year. We lost a lot of talent with the Class of '96 and it really hurt us, but we still worked hard and we are proud of our accomplishments. The next few years will be tough while the band is rebuilding. I know it's frustrating Mr. D, but stick with it. The IHS Jazz Band will someday win that Gold Medal again! So, continue that hard work and, in the words of Rick Gelinas, "Kick that funky beat one more time, Gerry." Good luck!

Leadership

Trust, respect, support, communication, cooperation, and confidentiality are the basis for a succesful leadership project. With a new teacher, longer class periods, and new faces we tried to establish a unit with these qualities. Leadership is designed to inform students about current issues concerning teens such as drugs, relationships, AIDS, sex, abuse, peer pressure and violence. We have shared some personal experiences and listened to guest speakers. Hopefully in the future more people will participate in leadership because of their desire to make a difference.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society started slowly but steadily this year. Each student participating has diverse interests, as well as being members of several other extracurricular activities. Although it is very difficult to schedule meetings around these many conflicts, most students manage to make an appearance or two. Determined to have a positive impact on the community, the group is working towards developing many service programs.

Whose ya daddy!

Kelly- you wonder WHY your toilet broke!?!

From Lobster Rolls to Raffle Tickets, Project Close-Up ran a lot of fundraisers this year. We held two raffles, a middle school and high school dance (thanks Seth and Paul), a can drive, sold lobster rolls, calendars, flowers, wrote letters and raised a lot of needed money. We may have lost a few people along the way, but we never lost our drive and enthusiasm. And for our reward, in March we skipped school for a whole week, met people from all over the US, and made a lot of friends and memories that we will keep with us forever (even though we were low on sleep and food- because it was so nasty- sorry Adam & Spell, it's true). On a personal note, we will never forget Chris, Tony, Eddy, Carlos, John, Jeff, Karen, Keith, and soooo many others. Oh yeah, our nation's capitol is really nice too, and we did learn a lot about our government. Thanks Spell for all your help, and for putting up with us (and our loves) in DC.

Science League-- where we learned the important difference between a flush and a full house, where we were asked by short people from Chelsea to get married, and where kids from Medford who wore Bon Jovi shirts should have been shot. Is it really worth the long bus trips, long snack lines, and sour coffee milk to go? Umm.. yeah. But we had fun this year and we actually made good placing. So, Mr. Pete, we're leavin' you behind, and Mike, hand us the green stuff and deal the freakin' cards!

We got off to a slow start, but once members began to regularly attend meetings, it picked up and thanks to Mr. Winters we were able to have a Student Gov't. Not only did we discuss the important issues of senior privileges (or lack thereof), outdoor graduation, and the exorbitant photocopying charge ($.05) inplemented in the Media Center, but we were also put in charge of developing a survey that focused on the new block schedule. We would like to extend a "Thank You" to Mr. Cahill for recognizing the importance of the representatives who are the voices of the student body. And to the freshmen, who did not have a single representative: maybe you should think about who is going to speak up for you when you need it, when you won't even speak up for yourselves.

Tiger Transcript

Journalism class is a lot of hard work with many strict deadlines. However, the different topics we've researched have made the course very interesting. Once a month, several articles chosen by the issue editors get printed in the Ipswich Chronicle, appearing in the Tiger Transcript. Throughout the semester we focused on how the media distorts images that are seen in television everyday. Also, we learned different writing techniques that we applied to our articles. The class will always remember the "Zippy" comics Mr. Laakso had us read (even though nobody understood them), and who could forget Danielle Connor's hysterical writing style. Best luck to the future journalists of IHS.

Sue Brown

Message on a bottle: an open letter to the beer industry

As a young child I used to stare at the posters of Spud McKenzie and think, "what a cute dog." Of course, I also learned that she was the mascot for the King of Beers -and who could blame her- nothing beats a Bud. I think I cried when she died.

Thank you for spending millions of dollars each year on advertising. You've taught me so much. I learned that some days Michelob, some days, Michelob Light, ya, some days are better than others. You showed me that an ice cold beer could liven up the dullest of parties, and even improve my beach volleyball game. What could be more important in life?

I saw a Coors ad once where this guy (unfortunately I don't remember his name) was telling the youth of America that Coors would wait for their business. Sorry, buster, but I want to tap the Rockies today. The Silver Bullet won't slow me down. I mean, if Caesar drank Cider Jack by the gallon, and Bram Stoker wrote Dracula over a pint of Bass Ale, why can't I kick back with an ice cold Rolling Rock after school? I just don't get it.

I've seen families bonding over a Bud Light (Dad, you're my Dad...and I love you man), and I just can't resist those cute little frogs Bud, Weis and Er. In this tedious life I long for Zomething different, Zomething cool and refreshing. I just want to be my own dog. Is there anything wrong with that?

You say you don't want underage drinkering, but that's just a cover for the government, right? Those stuffed shirts in Washington are unrealistic anyway.

How could I not try Pete's Wicked Summer brew before it was gone forever? After I heard all those funny stories people told over a Heineken on the radio, I just wanted to run to the store and buy a six-pack. I want to be on the radio. I'm sure something funny would happen to me if I drank Heineken.

These days you can't go wrong. Some beer companies have tackled the ever so urgent problems of the bitter beer face by printing "born on" dates on every can and bottle. No more skunky beer - what a relief!

It makes me sleep better at night to know I can call the Budweiser hotline anytime if I've fallen and can't reach my beer.

So again, I would like to thank you. As I finish high school and move on to college I will remember not to ask why, and to just drink Bud Dry. I'll never forget what the Australian word for beer is, and of course I'll know that everything else is just a lite. But for now, I'm going to head for the mountains of Busch... Beer. And remember kids...this Bud's for you.

Thankfully Yours,
Danielle Connor

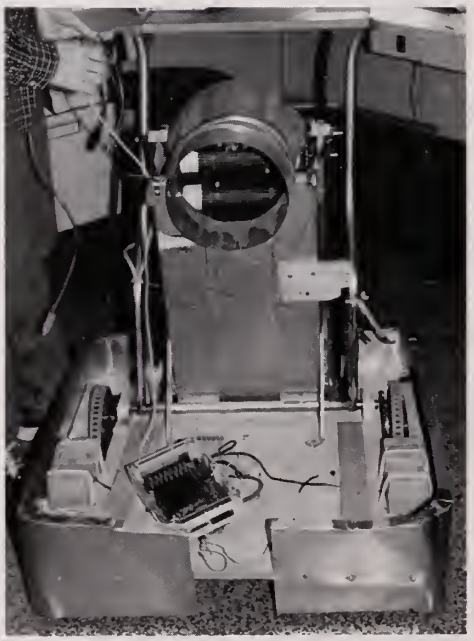
First Competition

US First is a robotics competition that challenges even the most intelligent minds. With strong community support and student participation, every year is more successful. With help from parents, teachers, engineers and local businesses, these dedicated students work on everything from technology to public relations. This time we hope to make it a little further at the competition in Manchester. Go Team!



Sports

Football

The 1996 edition of the Ipswich Football team was able to continue the winning trend the Tigers have set in the 90's, making Jack Welch the CAL's most successful coach of the decade. Going into the preseason the Tigers had one goal and one goal alone: to win the Superbowl. Although this goal was clearly attainable, the road was not eas after a couple of key injuires and two gritty performances that came up short, the Tigers finished 8-2. The season was not, however, without its highlights, the greatest being when the Tigers shut out Pentucket to give Coach Welc his 200th win. The Tigers also won their first overtime game ever and ended the season with five straight wins, including their sixth in a row on Thanksgiving. Led by a veteran linebacker tandem, a strong defensive line, and one of the better defensive backfields in recent memory, the Tigers allowed the fewest points in the CAL. On offen the Tigers always seemed to outplay the opponent when it truly mattered, resulting in many close victories.

The countless hours and intense effort that was necessary for a successful season led to a close knit group of players and coaches who share a bond that can never be broken. The Tigers proved they were among the league's best once again, and each and every person who made a contribution to this team can take pride in this. High scho football is a once in a lifetime experience, and this team made the most of it. - Co-Captain Mark Lees

Coach's Corner

The 1996 Tiger Football Team led by Captains Mike Marini and Mark Lees, truly demonstrated the importance of team play that is so important to be successful in such a physically and mentally demanding sport. Overcoming early season injuries, losing two bruising battles with North Andover and Wilmington and rebounding with five straight wins (4 on the road- Tigers 24 - Generals 14) illustrated the tenacity, toughness, and team play of this team.

This special group of seniors, playing this unique game, will always be remembered by me as always giving a championship effort in every game. I speak for all the coaches in saying that "I was honored and proud to be their coach."

It took dedication, time, and perseverance to accomplish the goals set before us at the beginning of the season. Though not all were accomplished, the effort was always there. We had many obstacles to overcome coming into the season, such as a new coach who turned out to be great. By the end of the season we pulled it together and had a big win against Georgetown 2-1. The dreaded Manchester squad was a tough 4-0 loss early in the season. Later, we came back, and gave 'em a good fight that we're proud of, but it just wasn't enough, and the game ended with a 2-0 loss. For the seniors, the memories that have been made since freshmen year will always stay with us.

Coachs' Corner

In my first year as varsity coach, I learned a great deal, and as a team we accomplished much. The girls worked hard in every practice and every game, and were complimented by opposing coaches and players. For the first time in IHS field hockey history, the girls won the Sportsmanship Award. I am extremely proud of each girl, and I hope all the rest of my years are as enjoyable as this one.

Although our goals for the season were not met, we as a team never gave up. Our spirit and love for the game kept us alive and, in turn, won us the Sportsmanship Award of the Cape Ann League for the second year in a row. "Seize the Opportunity"... the motto that drove the senior laden boys' soccer team to the most successful season in IHS history. These exceptional athletes proved they were the best in the league by winning the CAL Div. 3 title for the second consecutive year with a 13-3-2 record. They showed that they wanted it all with three straight state tournament wins outscoring their opponents 13-1. Their dream season came to a disappointing end on a 1-0 loss to Marblehead in the Div. 3 North Sectional Final. The one thing that will be remembered most about this team, is the friendship that held it together. "The Soccer Boys" is and will, for a long time to come, be referred to as the best team that has taken the field donning the good ol' orange and black.

Coach's Corner

We began the season with the motto "Seize the Opportunity." The senior dominated squad (14 out of 17 players) did just that:

- CAL Div. 3 champs for the second year
- Records for shutouts and goals scored
- 14 games without a loss (12-0-2)
- Ranked 2nd in Div. 3 North
- Div. 3 Finalists

A dream season which was dominated by TEAM play, supported by individual players who had the best season of their careers. Finished at 16-4-2 -- best record in the school's history.

An era has ended with the senior class- but a new age begins with the challenges for new players.

The golf team was in full spirits this year. We all tried hard, and played well. We made many memories, especially on the bus. We didn't expect to win any matches, but we proved ourselves wrong. To the players in the years ahead, have fun and try your hardest. I know I enjoyed these past three years of playing on the Ipswich High School Golf team, and you will too.

The 1996 fall Cross Country season was an enjoyable experience. Although the commute to Georgetown was sometimes a hassle, it was well worth it. Both the boys' and girls' teams were successful and often dominated the meets. We can always use more runners, so if you have any interest in going, come out and join us. We'd love to have you.

- Sarah Keenan

Fall Cheerleading

We started off on a new foot this season and it led us to success. The cheering team has finally increased in size, and with the help of our new coach we improved greatly in all areas, from stunts to spirits. Even though we did not place in the top five at the competition, we proved what we are capable of. The seniors wish all the underclassmen good luck in the future, including our wonderful mascot! Keep the memories of camp, practices, and games alive. Rock!

The winter season was a great experience! Although we only had a small squad, our spirit was that of a very large one. We dedicated ourselves to attend every game and thank all those who cheered us on and supported us. A special thanks to our coach who has stuck by us through thick and thin, We love you, coach! See you at Friday's! Good Luck to everyone next year and make the best of it. I'll miss you guys!

Ipswich Cheerleaders introduced a new look in 1996-97. The girls spirit and dedication cannot be matched by any other squad around! Their performance at weekly games and the Cape Ann League competition brought them much deserved applause and praise. SPIRIT IS BACK AT IPSWICH HIGH!!!

Girls' Basketball

The best word to describe the 1996-7 basketball season is rebuilding. After losing the "starting five," and returning only 3 varsity players, we had a tough season ahead. Through a rough first few games, we realized our strengths and weaknesses, and built up our strengths each game thereafter. We played many games when, even though the score said we were down, we knew inside that we had won. We'll never forget Sarah's craziness, Caitlin's ball "kick,"Lauren's "tricky" foul shots, or Meghan's off-the-glass-bank-shot. We have built so many memories together, and there will always be time for a game of "hot potato!" Together, we reached many individual and team goals, and overall, had a successful and entertaining season. One last thing: Show me the money!

Boys' Basketball

The boys basketball team came together this season with a strong core group of veteran seniors and three athletic juniors. The team started off very well and beat North Andover for only the second time in school history. Over the holiday break, the team traveled to Hamilton-Wenham and won the Sherman Kinney Basketball Tournament, led by Lucas Layne, who was tournament MVP. The team clinched the Cape Ann League small title for the second year in a row, and also qualified for the state tournament. The Tigers played well all season, and hope their hard work pays off in the tournament.

These senior boys have a lot to be proud of. They will be able to look back on their high school years and feel a great sense of accomplishment. They fought for league titles in football, set new records in soccer and won back-to-back championships in basketball. They were also able to combine their atheletic success with academic excellence. They were truly student-athletes. They have left their mark in this small team of the Tiger; now they must go into life and continue their success where the score really counts.

This winter the track team was a little undermanned compared to last year, but we proved to be very competitive. The new athletes looked to the returning runners for signs of leadership, allowing team members to challenge each other and improve their skills. This is what has made us a small, but very successful team.

The 1996-97 Boys' Winter Program finished with another highly sucessful season. Helping to give strong leadership to the program was Captain Matt Jodoin, ably assisted by Assistant Captains Jon Cennami and David Cody. This team showed great spirit and enthusiasm, as well as continuing to build a stronger base for a program to be able to continue to compete competitively in the Cape Ann League. Congratulations to the excellent seniors, and good luck to the underclassmen in years to come.

Ipswich High School !!!

It's been a great time staying in this little town called Ipswich. These five and a half months of 1996 were the most different, influential, and als most difficult time in my life.

Coming from a different continent, country an culture, you never know how you will be received and accepted. But surprisingly, I got a lot more respect and sympathy than I expected. I learned not only a new language, but I also learned to be dependent on myself and to handle approaching problems, especially in school.

I hope I will be able to come back soon becaus really had a great time in this fair country.

London Trip 1996

My name is Constanze Pirch, or as the ortfolio class used to call me: Conzi. This is atually my Austrian name, but Ms. Foote ad it off of one of my drawings and the hole class began calling my by it. It's short d much easier to pronounce. I'm almost 1, and in my sophomore year.

I came to the USA last September, because y mother and my aunt felt that it would be good experience to have a different view of le. It all came really sudden to me; I de-ded that I wanted to come here only 6 eeks before I flew to Logan Airport. Al-ost none of my friends knew I was coming ecause I left during vacation. It was a hard ecision, but now I know that it was the ght decision. I'm glad I came here because I met a lot of nice people. Everyone was ery friendly and I found friends fast. After l I went through in the past five and a half onths, I learned a lot about myself, life, nd a totally different culture, in a different ontinent. All I can say is THANK YOU VERYBODY!

THE CLASS OF 1997

IN THE "GAME OF LIFE" WE OFFER A FEW QUOTES FROM SOME NOTABLE "PLAYERS"

Setting a goal is not the main thing. It is deciding how you will go about achieving it, and staying with that plan.
- Tom Landry

Individual commitment to a group effort, that is what makes a team work . . . a company work . . . a society work . . . a civilization work.
- Vince Lombardi

Do not let what you cannot do interfere with what you can do.
- John Wooden

It's not the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog.
- Archie Griffen, two-time Heisman winner (5'9")

Even if you're on the right track, you'll get run over if you just sit there.
- Will Rogers

Great works are performed not by strength but by perseverance.
- Samuel Johnson

Other people may not have had high expectations for me . . . but I had high expectations for myself
- Shannon Miller

To succeed . . . You need to find something to hold on to, something to motivate you, something to inspire you.
- Tony Dorsett

My motto was always to keep swinging. Whether I was in a slump or feeling badly or having trouble off the field, the only thing to do was keep swinging.
- Hank Aaron

We must either find a way or make one.
- Hannibal

Power is not revealed by striking hard or often, but by striking true.
- Honore de Balzac

Genius is one percent inspiration and ninety-nine percent perspiration.
- Thomas Edison

Courage is resistance to fear, mastery of fear --- not the absence of fear.
- Mark Twain

Physical fitness is not only one of the most important keys to a healthy body, it is the basis of dynamic and creative intellectual activity. The relationship between the soundness of the body and the activities of the mind is subtle and complex. Much is not yet understood. But we do know what the Greeks knew: that intelligence and skill can only function at the peak of their capacity when the body is healthy and strong; that hardy spirits and tough minds usually inhabit sound gods.

Yearbook

The "Yearbook Staff"

The Real Yearbook Staff

After the past year, especially the last three hectic, 16 hour days before I wrote this, has been filled with a lot of work, but also fun. There are the infamous nightmares that came with being the Editor- the computer crashes, the plant never recieves our mail, and the one where we don't meet the deadlines on time- but I told myself at the beginning of the year that I would work as hard as I could to put out this Yearbook, and I am really proud of it, mostly because of dedication, and a supportful staff. It may have been bumpy in the beginning, but the months since then have definitely smoothed the rocky path. It may not have all been paradise, but I don't have much to complain about. I want to say thanks to Betsy for your artistic eye- especially with your photography, and beautifully and creatively drawn butterflies. Juliana- thank you for your level head and input, especially your original ideas and follow through with the spreads. Nicole- thanks for your rather optimistic outlooks, layouts, and time. Danielle- thank you so much for your sense of humor- between your stylistic, original write-ups, and your stories- you kept us all- especially me- sane. And Robin, thank you for your constant support, attendance, and attention. You were always trustworthy and reliable. (Remember- stay away from those Pringles!) I really couldn't have asked for a better group, you were all so different that it really enhanced this production.

I also want to say thanks to Mr. Winters- for your time, support, and office, and Mr. Merullo- for amongst so many other things, your printer. Thanks to Kelly Ryan, you always came in looking for something to do. Thanks to the Video Barn for their one-hour photoprocessing- it came in handy a lot. And, I also want to thank my family, and Marcy Irvine, though there may not have been a lot to keep you busy while here, thanks for being there for me-- you are a great friend.

I hope that you all understand how much work it took to put this yearbook together. It's not an easy job but I have to say I really loved it. These memories will always stay with me, wherever I go, and whatever I do.

To the Class of 1997, I sincerely hope all your dreams and aspirations come true, even to those who may not have known me. You guys have all been a big influence on my own personality and character... Thanks. As we depart as a whole, but go our seperate ways, make the most of your life, it never stops changing.

Editor-in-Chief

The Editors: Hard at Work

Seniors: Where I see myself in 2007...

Dimitri Aggelakis: "In a courthouse being indicted for involvement in an illegal gambling ring."
Laurie Allen: "Spending my days at the White House and the rest of my time just living it up."
Andrew Barous: "Starring in and producing my action-packed, full contact, low-budget Kung Fu Movies."
Jarrod Bartlett: "Owner of my own business, somewhere in New Hampshire or really far away."
Jessica Bedard: "I see myself in a career - in the city- but never being too old to act like a kid and to do the things I have always dreamed of doing."
Chris Benedetto: "Either teaching or touring the country with my band."
Heather Bonarrigo: "Counseling children."
Alana Brown: "Driving a brand new Lexus to my summer home on the Cape."
Sue Brown: "A nurse, living someplace warm."
Kate Bruce: "Married with many kids, living in a castle."
Lauren Butterworth: "OUT OF IPSWICH."
Adam Chittick: "Co-starring in a motion picture alongside Pete North."
Kelly Christensen: "In ten years I see myself married and having my own massage therapy place."
Courtney Clapp: "I see myself happily married with children, living in a nice house and driving a suburban up to my chalet in New Hampshire."
David Cody: "Going somewhere."
Winn Cody: "Working at some job, making lots of money and spending it on whatever I want."
Danielle Connor: "I will be driving in a car I endorse, listening to the radio show I star in, talking to the 'little people' on a cellular flip-phone."
Kathleen Cullen: "Teaching second grade in Florida."
Betsy Dorman: "Somewhere with a camera in my hand, love in my heart and a smile on my face."
Mary Fagan: "As a natural doctor or chiropractor practicing in Arizona, singing and creating art on the side, or, still in school."
Tyler Fahey: "I will be living happily somewhere, not worrying about what I wrote ten years ago."
Stephan Gaskins: "Living a life of luxury."
Douglas Gaudet: "Doing something I enjoy doing, which will also make me some money. In 10 years I'd like to have a family."
Daniel Gaumont: "Attacking a beach in a foreign country with an M-16 and killing anything that moves."
Chris Goodhue: "Bald, fat and drunk, taking a siesta on a street in Tijuana with a bottle of Tequila in my hand."
Chris Gould: "Cruising Wall Street in my Mercedes coupe, on my way to a CEO corporate investment meeting."
Matt Green: "I will be working for the government in Washington DC."
John Griffin: "Surfing backdoor at Pipeline."
Jenny Grimes: "I hope to be living in Washinton D. C. doing some sort of work for the government. Maybe doing some sort of international traveling."
Elisabeth Harding: "I will hopefully have a job I love, preferably with a considerable income. Actually, I just hope I have a job. All I want is to be writing, enjoying the arts and life, and being truly happy."
Tom Harkness: "Living in an O.T.O. Lodge working as a Tarot Artist and professional medium."
Jonathan Hubbard: "I see myself broadcasting Celtics or Red Sox games or at least having a lot of money."
Marcy Irvine: "Getting arrested for protesting animal rights."

Matt Jodoin: "I see myself married with children living a happy prosperous life."
Melissa Kelly: " I see myself living in my California beach house, in my theatre at the screening of a film from my own production company, MK Productions."
Dan Kmiec: "Many miles from Ipswich on a BIG HD (Harley Davidson)."
Kevin LaFountain: "Sitting in my beach house in California"
Jennifer Lawler: "I see myself in Hollywood, famous"
Lucas Layne: "I see myself married and owning my own business, financially secure and with a big house."
Mark Lees: "I will be in Australia, working on a Kangaroo ranch and spending my spare time catching brown trout in the stream by my cabin."
Justin Lemire: "Laying on a tropical beach with no money and no job."
Marc Libeskind: "Not in Ipswich, very far away from here."
Nichole MacWhinnie: "Ideally I picture myself in a well-paying job with a nice house, new car and a husband."
Michael Marini: "Happily married and working."
Danielle McCarthy: "Taking advantage of all the things life sends my way."
Christina Miller: "Living on a farm far, far away from here."
Gia Moore: "Far, Far, Away!"
Ian Nagus: "I see myself happy, keeping my ties with my Brothers from Ipswich."
Chris Nylen: "Perfecting a gambling ring after 4 years of studying at Boston College."
Bob Quinn: "Out of state, working."
Seth Reidy: "On a mountain feeling good."
Lindsey Rogers: "As a psychiatrist far away from Ipswich, married with children."
Kelly Ryan: "I will be living in California. I will be married and have a full-time job as a nurse and a part time job in the entertainment world."
Ralph Salerno: "I see myself in a better place than you!"
Jessica Savage: "I am going to be traveling the world, stopping at the Galapagos, the Amazon River, Australia, Alaska, Arizona (to visit Mary), CA (to visit Melissa), and Iceland, while taking a breather from earning my PhD."
Juliana Schneider: "I will have just returned from traveling around the world."
Amy Schofield: "Just livin' life- hopefully somewhere fun."
Austin Sharpe: "On a farm raising sea-monkeys."
Matt Sharpe: "A rich old bastard."
Martin Smith: "Working on my first million, living far away from here."
Charissa Soliozy: "I can see myself as a travel agent living someplace warm."
Nicole Sotis: "I see myself sipping champagne on my yacht in the Greek Isles."
Shawn Stefano: "In Texas."
Robin Teague: "I will be working in a lab performing strange experiments and paying off all my college loans."
Jason Thistlewood: "Still living in Ipswich."
Tong Thai: "On my way to somewhere..."
Maria Tsaltas: "On the battle field in some third world country."
Stephen Walker: "I see myself in ten years living the good life, with plenty of money and always having fun."
Trent Walker: "Hopefully, I'll have a job, hopefully I'll have a wife. Hopefully, I'll have a car, hopefully, I'll have a life."
Kyle Waz: "Retired."
Kristin Wile: "I see myself as a famous Patriot's cheerleader."
Lauren Young: "Living in my dream house on a beautiful lake while putting the finishing touches on the design for the 8th wonder of the world."

It's been a blast, but see you later. We're outta here!

Metamorphosis

Everything in the world is constantly changing. The seeds turn into flowers, spring to summer, night to day, rocks to sand. Some changes are long journeys, while others take just moments. Like the day you took the training wheels off your bike --that bike could take you farther and faster. Sometimes you fell off -- sometimes you got hurt -- but you could still ride that bike. As we grow and learn, our lives change. We learn what is right, and what is wrong; and every day we come another step closer to being independent.

Our four years of high school are like a bridge we have been building. It is the bridge to our future. This bridge will lead each of us in a different direction. At first it seemed as though we would never finish building our bridge, and then, all at once it seemed to be nearly completed. So, our bridge is almost finished now. We can stand on the edge and almost touch our future; we can see the drop below. Turn around, look behind you. See the metamorphosis you have just survived. See your mistakes, see your triumphs, and learn. We have all changed so much over the years, mentally and physically. We have made and lost friends, made good and bad decisions, and most of all begun the lifelong journey to figure out who we are, and where we are going. Be proud of who you are - be proud of who you made yourself.

So here we are - finally laying down the last pieces of this bridge we built together. It is time to say good-by. You see, although our bridge might take us all to the same mountain, we will all choose different trails. Some of us may cross paths again, while others may not. Whether our path takes us to school, service, work or play we must never forget where we came from. We must never lose sight of our dreams.

Let us hold hands for one last time as we make the final leap into our future together. We are finally ready to pedal away. Let us not change who we are. We are the class of 1997 - forever and always - let our changes make us stronger, for the beginning of the rest of our lives is here. Good luck my friends, the metamorphosis has just begun.
